DODGE IS TO BE IN RACE IN AUGUST

Charles L. Dodge, incumbent, yesterday announced that his name would be on the ballot in August to succeed himself as the county treasurer. Dodge has held the office for the past four years.

Dodge was named to fill the vacancy created through the death of the late J. Rio Baker. And, like his predecessor, who was a resident of Antioch, Dodge, too, originally hailed from Antioch, where he was born and raised though at the time of his appointment he was a resident of Crockett.

In considering appointment of a man to fill this office, the supervisors had before them several applicants, all of them men of importance and standing in the county. They gave a preference to Dodge for the important trust that must be assumed and he immediately entered upon the discharge of his duties.

When he was named treasurer Dodge was engaged in the mercantile business at Crockett as the manager of the Davis Brothers stores, and had made the waterfront community his home for many years.

Charlie Dodge holds the good will and the confidence of the people of Contra Costa county. The office of treasurer, where millions of dollars are handled annually, is one that is important to the people in that the incumbent must be a man of sterling integrity and must assume great responsibility. Like your banker, a great trust is reposed in him.

Charles Dodge has a multitude of friends throughout the county. His appointment gave them great pleasure and the unanimous vote of the supervisors by which he was inducted into office carried with it an endorsement that was well placed.

Secretary Mellon To Visit England

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon will sail late next week for England on a vacation trip which will keep him abroad until about September 1, he announced today.

He plans to cross the channel from England and travel through Belgium and Germany to Italy. He will spend some time with his daughter, Mrs. David K. Este Bruce the former Ailsa Mellon, and her husband, who recently assumed the post of American Vice-Counsel at Rome.

The trip has no relation to debt settlements or other international questions and he does not even expect to visit Paris, Mellon said.

VARE IS THE MOST COSTLY SENATOR IN U. S. HISTORY

"Spendthrift Campaign" of Newberry Only One Fourth of Penn. Campaign

By EDWARD L. RODAN
(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Representative William S. Vare, of Philadelphia, is the most expensive senatorial candidate in history, according to official figures, compiled by financial experts of the Senate Slush fund committee today.

They disclose that the Vare-Biederman-James campaign cost $809,114.60.

Contrasted with the staggering total of $1,804,932.25 poured out for the Pepper-Fisher-Smith ticket, however, the Vare expenditures appear quite "modest." Senator George Wharton Pepper, who headed the ticket, ran second to Vare.

Based on official reports made by the various campaign committees to the Senate authorities at Harrisburg, the committee's compilation disclosed that it cost $2,793,587.02 to nominate a republican ticket in the "gold plated" Pennsylvania primaries.

This total did not include unreported expenditures of numerous county committees which would bring the aggregate above the $3,000,000 mark, it was learned. As an amazing sidelight, the Pepper-Fisher-Smith combine had unpaid debts of $724,622.75, when the campaign closed, a sum equal to the cost of several national political campaigns in former years.

Most of the money was secured on "loans" made by Joseph R. Grundy, president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' association, and W. L. Mellon, of Pittsburgh. The "good angels" of the Pepper-Fisher campaign.

Archbishop Caruana Charges Mexicans Altered Records

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Chargé that Mexican authorities had altered his immigration papers since his expulsion from that country, Archbishop Caruana today left for Havana, Cuba, where he will resume his duties as apostolic delegate to the West Indies. The archbishop declares that photostatic copies of his immigration papers revealed evidence that the word "Catholic" had been erased and the word "Protestant" substituted. Two handwriting experts confirmed the fact that the "fraud" had been committed, he said.

Congressman Charles F. Curry will arrive at his home in Sacramento tomorrow, according to word received yesterday.

M. W. JOOST IS TO SEEK RE-ELECTION

MARTIN W. JOOST

Tax Collector Martin W. Joost, of the Contra Costa county official family, yesterday announced his candidacy for reelection to the office he has filled during the past 16 years.

Joost made his debut in politics in 1906 when he won the election to the office of public administrator. In 1910, he was elected tax collector and has been reelected to that office ever since.

No office in the county is more important than that of tax collector, and this individual is charged with the responsibility of collecting and handling millions of dollars annually.

In recent years Joost has installed a system in his office that has resulted in economy in the operation of his office, which has been endorsed by the state tax collectors' association and has been adopted by many of the counties throughout the state.

Two Inquests Are Held By Coroner

Rev. Lester G. Westling, killed in an automobile accident at the railroad crossing on Barrett avenue and Sixteenth street Thursday July 1, died from paralysis of the respiratory center of the brain as a result of a basal fracture of the skull due to Southern Pacific Train No. 7 having accidentally struck the automobile in which he was driving, a coroner's jury at an inquest held by Coroner Charles F. Donnelly decided last night. The jury was unable to fix the responsibility.

The jury found that the cause of death of Mrs. Mary Adeline Mack was due to intestinal illness due to shock and stricture of the pylorus caused when the car in which she was riding accidentally collided with a truck near Niles on June 27. The jury did not place the responsibility.

"Bishop Cosper" to Be Welcomed on His Release from Prison

The return to his flock will be celebrated by a huge meeting to be held in the Hotel Oakland Sunday by members of the cult of "Bishop" Wilbert Leroy Cosper, who will be paroled from the county jail Saturday. Aesthetic dancing will be but one of the features of the celebration, according to Cosper who states that his cult has grown considerably as a result of his incarceration in the jail.

Cosper was sentenced to serve ninety days in jail when he was convicted of administering physically to Mrs. Otto, Diederich of Richmond during childbirth. The sentence was imposed along with a fine of $500 by Superior Judge H. V. Alvarado for violation of the state medical practice act.

On Saturday, Cosper will have served 75 days of his sentence with 15 days good time to his credit. He applied for parole when he had 45 days served but the county board of parole commissioners denied him freedom.

STERN RESIGNS FROM STANDARD SANITARY SUBMARINE S-51 TO GIVE UP DEAD CANNERY TO DOUBLE CAPACITY

PLANT IS TO BE IN OPERATION IN ABOUT 2 WEEKS

Ideal Conditions Here Prompt
Plant to Start Plans for Enlargement Before Opening

Operations of the new Foster Canning company's plant at the foot of Nineteenth street will start within two weeks, according to a statement made yesterday by H. K. Foster, active manager of the plant. About 200 have registered their applications but the company will be unable to employ that number this year. After peaches and tomatoes are canned, the plant will shut down for this season and additions enlarging the plant to double the capacity will be constructed.

"I am surprised at the number of skilled help available for canneries here in Richmond who have been going to Oakland and Berkeley to secure work," said Foster in speaking of the employment situation in relation to the cannery.

"Usually when a cannery starts operation in a new community it is handicapped by being forced to employ workers who know nothing about the operations. Because of this, considerable fruit is damaged during the first few weeks of operations."

"But this is not the case in Richmond. We will be able to start operations with a crew of skilled employees including foremen, laborers and mechanics. These people who have had years of experience in canneries have heretofore been forced to go elsewhere to find work."

"I am really sorry that our plant is not four or five times larger. We should have started construction earlier. This year we start too late to can apricots but next year we will operate at full capacity. I could sell several carloads of apricots as I have received orders for them."

The establishing of the cannery here opened up new fields of production in the agricultural lines. Besides the number of skilled help available another reason for the establishing of the plant in Richmond was the low freight rates to San Francisco.

The plant will be in close touch with the delta region of Solano county and in direct communication with the Yuba district where a large percentage of peaches for canning are raised. All shipments will be made by the San Francisco-Sacramento short line and will be transferred to the Santa Fe railroad at Bay Point.

Improvements installed in the former Kates block at the foot of Nineteenth street include a 100 horsepower boiler and a 10,000 gallon fuel tank. The building has been completely remodeled to meet the needs of the cannery.

Next year when the cannery is operating at full capacity, apricots, asparagus, cherries, and peaches and tomatoes will be canned, offering employment to more than 200 Richmond employees.

ALL MEN STUCK TO THEIR POST BODIES SHOW

Traditions of the Navy Upheld
By Heroes Of Submarine
Which Went Down in Sept.

(By Universal Service)
NEW YORK, July 8.—Divers entered the wrecked hulk of the Submarine S-51 at the navy yard in Brooklyn today. They found that the glorious tradition of the American Navy were upheld in the disaster. Everybody trapped in the ill fated naval submarine when she sank last September was standing staunchly by his post of duty.

The radio operator's body is still at his switch, others are standing with their hands on the valves revealing that until the very last they did everything within their power to avoid collision with the steamer "City of Rome."

As the sun sank in the west the huge hulk was lifted inch by inch into view in the navy yard drydock. Stubborn to the last its weight made the boards groan and shriek dismally.

Only the marine guards slowly pacing their beat and the grim steel tomb whose decks could be seen above the water line told the story of the valiant dead and the spirit of the living navy.

The war paint had scaled from its sides in high patches revealing a glistening rust and clinging barnacles of seaweeds. Dazzling white against the sun's rays a life belt slung to the starboard.

"Richmond people have for some time been looking forward to the grand opening of the new hotel," said Henry Johnston, secretary of the Richmond Community Hotel company. "We are planning the celebration to come up to the expectations of everyone."

FLYER HURT AS FIREWORKS BURST IN AIR

(By Universal Service)

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 8.—Fireworks exploding on Terra Firma may be sane and safe enough. But 500 feet in the air on a dark night and in the middle of an airplane they are something else again.

Take it from Lieutenant John Mac Kenzie, Tennessee national guard aviator, who lies in a hospital here in a seriously burned condition after falling all those feet with his clothing and flesh a mass of flames.

Mackenzie and Captain Walter Williams, World War flyer, who are connected with a commercial corporation, ascended in the air with a cargo of fireworks which they were to set off far above the earth.

Bang! the explosion was premature. Nashville was treated to an extraordinary display, out of which floated two tiny specks attached to parachutes. Williams was unhurt.

EVANGELIST TELLS STORY TO L. A. JURY

(By Universal Service)

LOS ANGELES, July 8.—Clad in a white gown and navy blue cloak—the vestments of Angelus Temple—Almee Semple McPherson noted evangelist, related to the Los Angeles county grand jury today the story of her asserted kidnapping at Ocean Park, May 18, and her escape, six weeks later from a "desert shack where she was held for ransom by two men and a woman."

Mrs. McPherson took the stand shortly after 10 o'clock this morning and had not concluded her testimony at a late hour this afternoon.

When the evangelist appeared at the Hall of Justice she was escorted by a personal body-guard of five pretty girls wearing the white gown and navy blue cloak of the Angelus Temple, and a score of Temple ushers, clad in white dresses and black ties, many of her followers in the throng shouted "Glory, Hallelujah."

After a bath had been cleared through the crowd by the ushers, the evangelist, accompanied by her body-guard of maidens went direct to the grand jury room. She began her testimony at 10:34 o'clock. The 19 members of the grand jury sat in silence while she related her story.

The evangelist talked without interruption until the point in her story where she said she sent Miss Emma Schaffer, her secretary, for orange juice, it was reported. An apparent discrepancy was found, according to report, and at this point District Attorney Keyes began to cross-examine her.

Mrs. McPherson's story is said to have been substantially the same as she told to Captain of Detectives Cline and Deputy Prosecutor Joe Ryan at Douglas, Ariz., on the morning following her reappearance.

Resignations of Two Officials

Newton W. Stern, general manager of the Pacific Coast division of the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing company which includes the Richmond potteries and enamelware plant of the company and M. E. Wangenheim sales manager of the company resigned their positions yesterday noon at a meeting of the company held in the San Francisco offices.

Stern refused to comment on the resignation when questioned yesterday other than to state that the resignation had been tendered and that he did not know who would be appointed as his successor.

This is the second change in the heads of the company in the past few months. W. A. Potter for many years manager of the Richmond potteries tendered his resignation to the company on May 6.

Stern was formerly general manager of the Pacific Sanitary Manufacturing company here until that company was acquired by the Standard company when he became Pacific Coast Manager of the Standard.

Stern did not announce his plans for the future when he confirmed the report of his resignation yesterday.

Piedmont Fights Big Forest Fire

(By Universal Service)

OAKLAND, July 8.—Hundreds of men from three cities were late today fighting a brush fire in the Oakland Piedmont hills district in an effort to keep it from sweeping over a ridge into Piedmont.

Originating from a fire in a bunk house in the Borax-Smith Reserve the flames leaped through young pine timber toward the Oakland Boy Scout camp. Two hundred boy scouts fought the blaze and turned it back but a stiff breeze fanned it toward Piedmont.

More than 100 acres was burned over in the first two hours.

PAYING IT OFF

Tuesday last, June 15th, the United States Government redeemed, cancelled and paid off for good and all $333,000,000.00 of debt, which even at 3 per cent rate of interest was costing the people of the nation close on to $10,000,000.00 in annual interest. The payment "is impressive and astonishing." The United States stands first among all the nations of the world in its record payment of these obligations. The post war financing under the republican administration has been truly impressive. Even the New York Times, which is not in the habit of wasting many words in adulation over republican achievements admits it.

Since August, 1919, we have paid off over seven billion dollars worth of public debt. The total has been reduced from $26,350,000,000.00 to $19,000,000.00. We have not only reduced the total of this enormous figure, but by so reducing we have saved over $21,000,000.00 worth of interest. Whether a debt is owed by a citizen, or by the national government, the laws of interest prevail, and are unescapable. Our achievement far surpasses all other governmental records. Great Britain has made a determined battle, but its total redemption is only 27 per cent of the American figure. Withal, while our debt redemption has been made by economy, and largely by a careful governing of expenses, there is no one of us who can claim that any real government activity has been stunted, or has lost its vigor, or that the burden of debt redemption has fallen upon any of us in such a way as to become oppressive.

The Efficient Housewife

ARE there any efficient housewives today? Probably more than ever before. They are the women who apply the same intelligent thought to their homes that their husbands apply to business and simplify cooking by making frequent use of canned foods.

Among the things on which household efficiency depends are: (a) a well stocked shelf of canned and ready-to-serve foods, (b) at least two kinds of new improved can openers, (c) a combined gas and electric range, if in the city, where power and gas are available, or if she is remote from such conveniences, she has the most improved type of oil range, (d) oil floor mops and the improved long handled type of dust pan and brush, (e) soft whisk-brooms for brushing the over-stuffed furniture, (f) a schedule for her housework, certain hours for routine household duties and for planning and preparing meals, (g) other hours for recreation, visiting friends, matinees, concerts, and church, with efficient leisure for reading and otherwise expanding and enjoying life.

Once accustomed to such a systematic method of accomplishing the necessary tasks of the home, the housewife will find that the work becomes almost mechanical, takes a minimum of thought and energy, and she is able to conserve her effort for more congenial occupations.

The well stocked shelf of prepared foods leaves the housewife ever ready for emergencies in the most efficient way. The only All-Steel Elephant in Captivity giving her the food for the family meals in a form that requires a minimum of her own effort in preparation. The very best method is to keep a list of the foods she uses often and of the delicacies that are her resources for emergency meals, for salads and desserts. The staples of which there should be a generous supply in cans are peas, stringless beans, spinach, corn, spaghetti, tomatoes, kidney beans, baked beans; soups such as tomato, clam broth, vegetable, and chicken; fruits, pears, peaches, grapefruit, pineapple; delicacies in the way of asparagus, dressed chicken, seafoods, shrimp, salmon, tuna, oysters, which are especially adapted to the hastily prepared meals; ingredients for pies such as sour red cherries, pumpkin, rhubarb, also sauces, salad dressings, desserts like fig and plum pudding and fruit cake.

With these foods at hand, it is a simple matter to plan meals and to serve them. Opening the cans is readily done with the improved types of can opener. They operate with a rotary motion, cutting off the rim of the can. Two other types are so arranged that scissors-like levers, held with the left hand grip the edge of the can and a screw turned with the right hand cuts off the rim. There is no jabbing the can in order to insert the opener and no great physical effort as with the old fashioned type.

The combined gas and electric ranges which come sometimes with a fireless cooker attached cause the least possible smoke and dirt, have regulators for proper degrees of heat and time clocks, to shut off the heat, making it unnecessary for the housewife to stay in the kitchen the entire time the meal is cooking.

Long handled brushes and dustpans eliminate stooping, and the soft whisk-brooms for over-stuffed furniture raise little dust and are unharmed to the nap of the material. Oil floor mops get up all the dust, leaving the floors with a gleaming finish that is a protection to the wood as well.

Household aids of this sort go half way toward efficiency. The other half is systematic use of them. Certain hours set aside and the determination to accomplish the tasks within these certain hours completes the household engineering scheme. By noon, the routine tasks are accomplished, the dinner is planned and the entire afternoon is free for recreation or for artistic endeavor, if the housewife's talents run to writing, painting, or craftsmanship of any sort. She has the chance to keep up with outside interests, to know what is going on in the world.

Now, Mrs. Housewife, if you will investigate these helps, particularly canned foods, and establish your housekeeping on a plane of efficiency, you will find that during your hours of leisure, you are not preoccupied with the cares of your home, and that you are free to enjoy yourself and make yourself doubly pleasant to your friends.

Only All-Steel Elephant In Captivity

Exhibited at Celebration of Nation's Birth in Philadelphia

MANY interesting and colorful inventions were displayed in a Pageant of Industry, illustrating the march of progress since the Centennial in Philadelphia fifty years ago, one of the feature parades opening the Sesqui-Centennial celebrations in that city recently.

One of the floats which attracted the most attention was "The Only All-Steel Elephant in Captivity."

It was a life-size beast moulded to the minutest form just to show how far man's ingenuity can go in the way of moulding tough, resilient steel. So carefully had the engineers observed the living pachyderm that had it not been for the glistening natural steel surface it might easily have been taken for the real thing. By virtue of its steel construction, it had literally the strength of a jungle elephant. Its "keeper" scrambled over it as do circus trainers over their charges and much to the delight of the small boys balanced himself gracefully on the curling trunk.

The strength of this steel monster was due to the nature of its construction, which carried out the same principles used in the construction of all-steel motor bodies. Many pieces of steel were electrically welded together so that the result was, for all practical purposes, a single unit.

In fact, many sections of the elephant, such as the flanks and rear quarters, were literally parts of standard automobile bodies. They had been stamped out and then slightly altered to meet their new requirements by the Edward G. Budd Manufacturing Company, the makers of all-steel bodies, whose exhibit it was.

Draped over its back was a blanket with the legend, "Good Old Philadelphia, the Home of the All-Steel Body." To give the elephant a modern touch, the ancient howdah of India was replaced by the modern top of a coupe body. This metal pachyderm was meant to symbolize the strength and malleability of steel, as tough and pliable as the elephant's hide and as strong as his mighty bones. It was drawn by a small tractor driven by a man in full armor. Following were cars equipped with All-Steel bodies.

Germany to Have Unusual Memorial To Her War Dead

By O. D. TOLISCHUS
BERLIN, June 8.—Germany's memorial to her war dead will be a "Holy Flame" on a mountain top which will burn continuously until the last war veteran is dead, if the proposal of the Reich Art Director, Dr. Redlich, is adopted.

This "Holy Flame" is to be to Germany what the grave of the Unknown Soldier is to America and the Allies—a symbol of her sacrifice, but also a symbol of her regeneration and a Mecca for her youth for new inspiration.

When the last war veteran dies, he is to be buried in the "Holy Flame" and through him this war-borne flame is to be extinguished.

Each year on the national memorial day, this "Holy Flame" is to be multiplied on all mountain tops throughout the country as centers for the local memorial ceremonies.

For that reason, however, Dr. Redlich wants the German memorial day to be held during the summer, instead as heretofore during the winter, in order to insure national participation.

Three Damage Suits Follow Auto-train Crash at Bay Point

Three suits for damages arising from an automobile-train crash at Bay Point on July 26, 1925 have been filed against the Southern Pacific railroad, according to word received from Martinez.

Damages of $50,000 for the death of George Allen, 36, Pittsburg taxi driver are asked by Mrs. Eleni A. Pabli, mother of Allen, and Mrs. Mabel Allen, his widow. The suit charges that the accident was due to negligent operation of the train.

The other two suits filed against the railroad company are by relatives of Mrs. Catherine Demetropoulos, 23, and her nephew, William Demetropoulos, 5, two other victims of the accident.

Mrs. Bessie Strite who has been seriously ill with pneumonia at the home of Mrs. Edna Yager, 5208 Nevin avenue has recovered sufficiently so that she is able to see her friends.

"More Pay -- Less Work" Showing At Richmond Theatre

"More Pay--Less Work," which will show at the Richmond theatre today and tomorrow is Fox Film's version of Peter B. Kyle's latest story about Cappy Ricks. Kyle has outdone all his former efforts in creating amusing situations for Cappy and his associates and in this comedy he has almost all the principal actors floundering around in San Francisco Bay at some time during the action.

First Cappy's daughter Betty falls into the water. Willie Hinchfield, son of Lord Hinchfield, Cappy's old enemy dives in after her. Later in the comedy Cappy and Dad are spilled into the water when a motorboat overturns.

A double knockout that finishes a fist fight is another amusing incident. Tussle collide in the bay and the captains start fighting. Each lands a haymaker and knocks out the other at the same time.

Albert Ray directed production with a cast which included Mary Brian, Charles "Buddy" Rogers, E. J. Ratcliffe, Albert Hoffman, Albert Gran and Charles "Heinie" Conklin.

Other features on the same program include "East of the Water Plug," a Mack Sennett comedy and "Felix Tale of Two Kittens," a Felix the cat cartoon.

"Tony Runs Wild" At the California Starting Today

"Tony Runs Wild," Fox Film's latest Tom Mix production, will start a two days' showing at the California Theatre, beginning today.

This picture gives both Mix and his wonder horse "Tony" an opportunity to appear in new feats of strength and skill and to add thrills that are new even for Mix and "Tony."

The setting for "Tony Runs Wild" is along the Apache trail, in some of America's most striking scenery, including exteriors and interiors of the ancient Cliff Dwellings, homes of a race vanished, are shown on the screen and the roads selected for the picture are the most striking of all along America's highway of wonders.

The celebrated Box Canyon is the setting for the final act of the play and "Tony," playing the role of leader of a band of wild horse shows his usual intelligence.

Jacqueline Logan has the feminine lead and others in the cast include Lawford Davidson, Duke Lee, Vivian Oakland and Edward Martindale.

Other features include "The Hug Bug," a Glen Tryon comedy; "Dolly Gray," a Kokke song cartoon; "International News," and Larry Canelo at the organ.

MECHANICS NINE DEFEATS ALL STANDARDS 11 TO 3

WILD GAME IS PLAYED IN S. O. B. B. LEAGUE

Winners Make Eleven Runs on Eight Hits While Losers Tally Three Times on Seven

When one has to go down and sit in a dusty, dirty, press box and watch a baseball team and an apology for one trot around in the dust supposed to be playing ball and then watch an umpire who hadn't any sleep for the past two weeks and was making up for it during the game, it's not so good.

Last night a so called game was played with the Mechanics defeating the All Standards by a slight score of 11 to 3. The Mechanics by stretching one's imagination, might be said to have played good ball but no imagination possible could say that the All Standards played good ball, except once in a great while.

One or two plays might have been classed as good. Especially Amedee's thrilling catch in the sixth inning when he chased almost to second base to grab a hot fly from Borton's bat.

Bobby Orr, who was in the box for the All Standards, pulled a good play in the seventh inning. With Bartoli on third and Murray on first, Murray started for second and Armentrout hurried over for second, at least that is what Bartoli thought. Bartoli started for home but in the meantime Orr had grabbed the hot throw and had hurled it down to Freine at third. Bartoli kept heading for home. Freine hurried to Armentrout and Bartoli kept heading for home. Freine hurried to Armentrout and Bartoli strated back to third. Armentrout threw back to Freine who staged the runner out.

Outside of one or two of these plays the rest of the game was terrible.

Judge for yourself. The Mechanics got eleven runs with eight hits while the All Standards gathered three runs and seven hits.

Stolle's work behind the plate could not be classed as good. And it could not be placed in the bad class. It was rotten.

Well, maybe the worst is yet to come.

Wild Bill Melhoun Equals Course Record In First Day's Round In National Open Play

(By Universal Service)
By WARREN BROWN

SCIOTO CLUB, Columbus, Ohio, July 8.—"Wild" Bill Melhoun who negotiates the first lap of these open golf championship regatta at a faster pace than the majority of contestants find it possible or convenient to follow, wound up the opening round of the festivities at the Scioto Country club, today with a spectacular 35-36-68.

This bit of open field running on the part of Bill, not only equalled the course record, which was established by George Sargent in the year of the big wind, and equaled this week by Tommy Armour, but it was also good enough to lead that fellow Jones of Atlanta, by two strokes. Bobby put one steady 35 beside another of the same for a 70, two strokes under par for the course, and moved a couple of other fast first lap runners, Al Espinosa, of Chicago and Joe Turnesa, of New York, into third place with their respective and very respectable 35-36-71.

Quite a few of the delegates took it upon themselves to equal par, one of them being the defending champion, Willie MacFarlane, 35-37-72, and another, Leo Diegel, Canadian open champion, 36-36-72. Bracketed with this pair, from whom almost anything could be expected, were Pat Doyle of Elmsford, N. Y., 34-33-72, and Dan Williams, of Westfield, N. J., 36-36-72. Doyle had a trio of deuces in his card. Par was equalled again by one of the last starters in the day.

Walter Hagen, for all of a bit of stumbling on the last half of the round, at one point of which he almost drove into an auto parked by the roadway, wound up with 36-37-73.

Chick Evans of Chicago, once more sticking his head up among the golfing elite, had a 35-46-75, which was equalled by Densmore Shute, another amateur, from Huntington, W. Va. Keefe Carter, the western champion, started off nicely, with a 36, which equalled par, but he weakened in the stretch, and finished with 76 for the round. These three, and that fellow Jones, carried the banner for the 28 amateurs, the rest of the field shuffling away to such disastrous scores as 37 for Roland MacKenzie, of Washington, 32 for Eddie Held of St. Louis, 35 for Alfred Sargent, who was playing in his own back yard, and 87 for Watts Gunn, another one of those fellows from Atlanta.

Harrison Johnston, of St. Paul, managed to break eighty with his 40-39-79, and all things considered, this wasn't so very bad. It was not so good, for instance, as George von Elm's 40-38-73, even though they will stage no torchlight parades in Los Angeles tonight, because of George's doings along the line of march at Scioto.

It was quite as good as the 41-38-76 registered by Al Watrous.

Grubbing through the list of performances, in the first official test of the rough one of the exceedingly sunny fairways of Scioto, one comes across such scores as these: Emmett French, 74; Willie Hunter, of Los Angeles, 75; Frank Walsh, of Appleton, Wis., 76; Bobby Cruickshank 76; Jack Forrester 76; Laurie Ayton of Chicago 76; Johnny Farrell, New York, 76; Willie Klein, New York, 76; Clarence Hackney, William Hunter, Chicago, 77; Jim Barnes, 77; Bob McDonald of Chicago 77; Mike Brady 77; Clarence Wolff 78; Gene Sarazen 78; Eddie Loos 78; Cyril Walker 78; Larry Nasholtz 80; Harry Hampton 81; John Golden 81; MacDonald Smith 82; Eddie Held 82; Jack Hutchison and Francis Fallet 83; Eddie Murphy, Chicago 84.

The other two par breakers besides Jones, Messrs. Espinosa and Turnesa, the light operative duo, had very satisfactory rounds. In fact Espinosa had a fine chance for a 69 when he left the eighteenth tee. But his tee shot went into the rough at the right, and he played safe to get out. His third shot was weak, and the hole, and a 71, otherwise he should have been right beside that fellow Jones.

Lest the leading Melhoun, and the others who broke, equalled, or came close to par are inclined to regard Bobby's 70 as nothing of very great importance, let it be pointed out that this 70 was the best first round of golf that the Atlanta ever turned in for a national championship performance. As a general rule Bobby gets better as he goes along. If he gets any better than he was today, then it will be just as well to give him the old title, and turn the course back to the members.

Garrots Used in Cuba to Execute Slayer of Aunt

(By Universal Service)

HAVANA, July 8.—The first civil execution by the garrote which has taken place in Cuba for a quarter of a century was carried out at Santiago early today when Salvatore Aguilera paid the penalty for the murder of an aunt two years ago.

All other executions in late years by the garrote have been done in carrying out courts martial sentences.

The garrote is an old Spanish instrument which strangles the victim with an iron collar which is tightened by a screw until life is extinct. It required eleven minutes to kill the prisoner this morning, a convict acting as executioner.

Bridge Across San Francisco Bay Would Be Menace to the Security of Nation Says Navy

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Declaring that a bridge across San Francisco Bay north of Hunter's Point would be a menace to America's security in time of war, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur today concurred with the war department in opposing such construction.

A bridge at that point might be destroyed by an enemy or its agents in time of war and prevent the entry or departure of the fleet, Wilbur pointed out.

The sole objection to construction of the bridge is based on this danger, it was stated, in the hope that a plan may be discovered to offset the objection, final decision has been withheld for 30 days, upon request of Captain Frank Ainsworth of the San Francisco-Alameda Bridge commission.

October 7, 1921 the War Department announced its policy in regard to a crossing on San Francisco Bay as:

No bridge north of Hunter's Point. No low bridge north of San Mateo. A tunnel at any point provided it has a clearance of fifty feet below mean low tide. A combined bridge and tunnel south of the proposed Alameda Naval Base.

Upholding this policy, Secretary Wilbur in a letter to Secretary of War Davis today said:

"After careful consideration the Navy Department recommends adherence to the War Department policy of October 7, 1921.

"This department is unable to recommend a change in the present policy because of the firm belief that the existence of a bridge across the San Francisco Bay north of Hunter's Point would be inimical to the national defense, because it would restrict shipping and naval operations in that bay.

During war the wrecking of such a structure by bombs or an act of nature might completely bottle up such naval forces and commercial ships as were in the harbor at the time and this might include the whole fleet, or if the fleet were at sea might prevent the entrance of the fleet into San Francisco Bay, thus depriving the navy of a most essential Pacific Coast base.

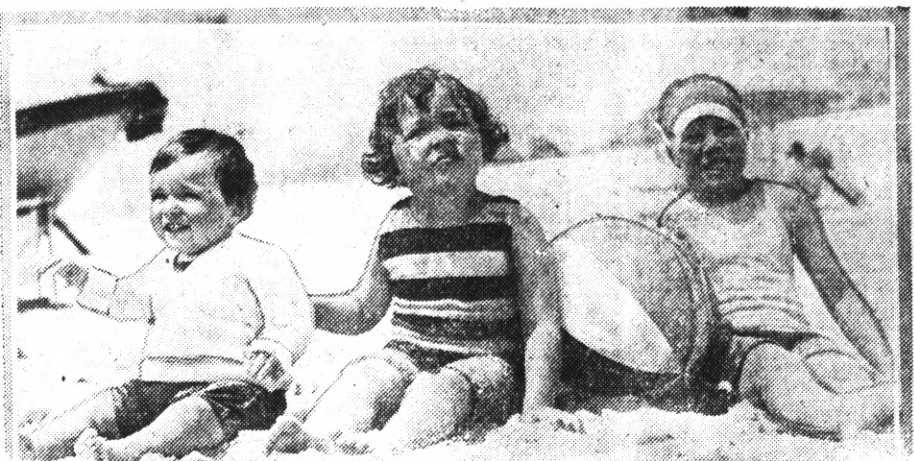

"San Francisco Bay and Puget Sound are the only protected bases on the Pacific Coast which a fleet can use for refitting, refueling and operating during war."

While agreeing to the plan to withhold final decision on the bridge matter pending recommendations of army engineers and others Secretary of War Davis stated there appeared little possibility of a new hearing being ordered.

Husband Asks Alimony in Divorce Suit

The unusual in divorce suits was filed in Martinez yesterday when John Hilboff, a patient at the Weimar tuberculosis hospital, filed a complaint for divorce against his wife, Mrs. Helen Hilboff, caretaker of the community center at Crockett in which he asks alimony of $50 a month.

Attorney John W. Bristow of Crockett, representing Hilboff secured an order from Judge A. B. McKenzie restraining Mrs. Hilboff from disposing of $1,500 deposited in two San Francisco banks and $350 of his own money which Hilboff states he gave his wife for safe keeping when he entered the hospital a year ago.

Hilboff asks that attorney fees amounting to $150 be assessed against his wife and claims that his wife earns $25 weekly. The couple were married in October 1924 and separated April 15, 1926, according to the complaint.

He claims that he is physically unable to work and that his wife has refused to turn over to him the $350 which he claims he gave her for safe keeping. He also states that when he visited his wife in Crockett she refused to care for or comfort him and that she told him she did not love him and intended to secure a divorce from him.

VARE IS THE MOST COSTLY SENATOR IN U.S. HISTORY

Governor Gifford Pinchot paid out $188,439.17 to run a poor third for the senatorial nomination, the figures showed.

The total expenditures for the Vare-Beidleman-James ticket were over four times as great as the amount spent by former Senator Truman Newberry, of Michigan, whose "spendthrift campaign" forced his resignation from the Senate.

The Vare-Beidleman coalition had unpaid bills of $96,034.91 when the campaign ended.

side of the conning tower, to port the dull lettering S-51.

Prevailing over the navy yard tonight was a feeling of quiet excitement.

Far under the command of Lieutenant Commander, Ellsberg, the navy had rescued its battered victim from the cruel grasp of the sea, the greatest naval feat of the Twentieth century.

Salvaging work was stopped at 4:45 o'clock only at the command of Rear-admiral Plunkett after six hours of grilling efforts.

All day long Commander Ellsberg stood at his direction post on one of the pontoons and skillfully maneuvered the raising of the enormous sea craft, while naval officers and gobs alike crowded about the edge of the dock watching with odd silence the artful work of the rescuers.

Now comes the gruesome task of taking the heroic dead from their steel mausoleum.

None but naval officers were allowed to remain in the yard to witness the conclusion of the difficult salvaging feat. None but naval officers will be allowed to watch the removal of the bodies of their brother seamen tomorrow.

TO REMOVE PAPERS

Lieut. Commander, J. W. Lenny of the Submarine S-50 will be the first to enter the bulk of the submarine S-51 now at the yards. The navy department announced today. He will go aboard to remove the secret documents that are carried in every ship of the line. Lieut. W. H. Hatchway of the New York navy yards will then take charge of the squad to remove the bodies.

Alton Gisher of Sacramento who has been visiting with his sister, Mrs. Z. Schillig, 238 Seventeenth street for the past three weeks is leaving today for Europe. Gisher expects to spend the greater portion of his European visit at Lucerne, Switzerland.

Patent construction of HOEY "Neverspread" Mattress—showing inner binding-cloth.

Permanent Comfort and the Hoey "Neverspread."

The sleep-inviting comfort of the restful Hoey "Neverspread" Mattress is largely due to the inner binding-cloth holding together the four walls and the top and bottom of the mattress. With this patented device the "Neverspread" can never sink into a hollow in the center or spread to a bulge at the edges. It can never lose its cushioned softness, its life, or its buoyancy.

The unstretchable inner binding-cloth is sewed to the walls of the mattress with purple thread. Look for the Purple Line—it means the mattress is "Bound to Last."
